NAPLES IN PANIC OVER CHOLERA

NAPLES, Sept. 29.—The cholera situation here is openly declared to be infinitely worse than the authorities will admit. Charges are made to-day that the official reports give but a fraction of the actual number of the dead and dying. The city is almost to a state of panic and practically all of the foreign residents have fled, along with many thousands of the native population.

While the official report given out late last night admitted nine deaths and fifteen fresh cases within the preceding twenty-four hours, it is openly stated that there were actually eighteen deaths and thirty-nine new cases. Nine more are known to have died since midnight last night.

MISS DEACON'S MANAGEMENT IS REPORTED OFF

NEWPORT, Sept. 20.—Notice of great social interest in the management of George Lee Deacon at Boston by Miss Edith Deacon of this place has been made for the first time.

Those who have watched the young man and the beautiful girl have noticed for some time that there was not that decided character about them. In the year 1908 it is declared that Miss Edith Deacon, the daughter of the late Mr. Deacon, was not so good as the mother.

Grandmother Says No.

A New York publication prints the following as the reason the management was broken:

"Mrs. Deacon had never seen Pauline until Edith took her to Newport early in August, and was then quick to see that her granddaughter's youthful enthusiasm had overpowered the sound of good sense."

It is believed that the last health of Mr. Deacon had something to do with ending the management. He suffered a stroke in a timely manner and he has not yet recovered.

Miss Deacon is one of the most popular of the younger Newport set. She was introduced to Newport society three years ago by Mrs. Deacon, who was then in the management of the party given at the home of the late Mr. Deacon, which was then of the Atlantic.

Of the Spanish Type.

The girl is of the Spanish type, beauty, alert eyes and hair are black and her figure is much admired. She is athletic, like a champion, and plays tennis, golf, the piano, and other sports. She is a native of New York and was born three years ago that she was educated in the city of New York.

Miss Deacon is the youngest one of the family. She is the daughter of the late Mr. Deacon, who was born in the city of New York and was educated in the city of New York.

SEEKS TO BARE INSIDE OF SHOE MACHINERY CO.

Katlin I. LaFayette, a literary inventor, who is in litigation with the United Shoe Machinery Company, seeks to lay bare the inside workings of the defendant company, commonly known as the "Shoe Machine."

In a motion and check now before Judge Peters in the equity master session of the Suffolk Superior Court, LaFayette asks that Sidney W. Wilson, president of the United Shoe Machinery Company, be required to answer several questions, regarding the history and working methods of the company.

Calling Company a Monopoly.

LaFayette charges that the company is a monopoly in violation of trade laws, and that it is in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law.

LaFayette entered the equity of the company in January, 1908, and has since then been fighting the company. He has been successful in getting the company to answer several questions, but he has not yet been successful in getting the company to answer the questions regarding the history and working methods of the company.

Demands $50,000.

LaFayette is demanding a judgment of $50,000 for the company. He is also demanding that the company be required to answer several questions regarding the history and working methods of the company.

CANAL WILL PAY ITS COST IN WARSHIPS

One reason for the success of the work on the construction of the Panama canal is that politics is eliminated. The reason for this elimination was yellow fever and the disease from Washington. The canal will pay back its own cost itself, indirectly or costs. When it is finished, the battleships will do the work for which five are now required in protecting the coast, and at the present cost of battleships it will not require a great number to pay for the cut—Street Superintendent Rourke, in address before American Institute of Banking.

Burn All Your Old Love Letters

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Old Love Letters Die
Many of us have a box of old love letters lying around, waiting for the day when we will burn them. It is a sad fate for these letters, which were once the lifeblood of our love.

Use Common Sense
When you are in love, you are often so overcome by emotion that you do not use common sense. You write letters that you will never read, and you keep them for years.

Appreciate Parents Now

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

It is a sad thing to realize that we are growing old, and that our parents are growing old. We should appreciate them now, while we still have them.

Back to Winter Quarters

By NELL BRINKLEY

It is the summeriest kind of an Indian Summer has a touch of the Winter's chill to it and the slight of the Summer Girl and Cupid, beating it back to Winter quarters—housing themselves against the coming storms and getting ready to toss themselves before the great fire in the vision that greets you these days.

Daysey Mayme Improves Her Mind

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE

[Have you been reading these Daysey Mayme Appleton stories. If you read one of them you'll find every one that is published, that is, Daysey Mayme has a deal of fascinating philosophy about her, and is a most interesting young society belle, back home in the little town where Mr. and Mrs. John L. Appleton hold forth, and whatever Daysey Mayme says or does is of some consequence. Daysey Mayme's latest in her social climbing has been her trip to New York. You'll be interested in her adventures and her sayings. Also, the other members of the Appleton family will be mentioned from time to time in these articles.]

My head went round and round. Was it a device in law or a love story, that it was, however, anyway? A new way of doing the hair? And so it seems to me that with "nerve" and "harmony" to my credit, though I don't know if they are what the Chamber didn't have left, or new stations of the harp, but this is a lead horse, and the livecock market's closed. So I

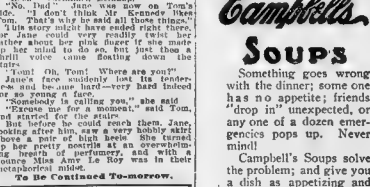

Daysey Mayme is cultivating her mind between times.

Today's Best Story

ROBERT W. CHAMBERLAIN, the famous novelist tale of a New York friend who visited a "Chicago cousin" (Harry), and the New Yorker before I wrote him I want to be sure and visit the New York cousin, the Art Institute, and the Field Museum. I suppose I'll visit the Museum, direct me right to the place where the "Chicago cousin" is, and I'll be sure to see him. I'll be sure to see him. I'll be sure to see him.

How to Develop the Bust
It is wonderful as it may seem, we have found a simple, harmless way to develop the bust. It is through the discovery of a woman's own nature, her own mind, her own body, her own soul.

STOCK MARKET TAKES A JUMP

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Gains ranged from 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 points and were scored in almost every active bond at the opening of the stock market today. A partial clearing of the State political situation, prominent in the market, was one of the factors toward trend. Other advances are looked for when the Democratic convention at Rochester comes to a close. Reported all through the market, and considerable trading was indulged in, Canadian Pacific and Eastern Railway shares in the new movement, and the price of the latter advanced 3 1/2 points. Heading advanced three-fourths of a point, and the price of the latter advanced 3 1/2 points. Throughout the session, considerable activity also. Announcements of copper and silver production in the United States, and this department of the market brightened. Western copper a point over the close, and Announcements of silver production in the United States, and this department of the market brightened.

ROOSTER DESERTS WRECKED BARGE

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Togo, a fighting rooster, stood on the heaving deck while the large John T. Donohue, one of the tug Concord's convoy, ran on the rocks off Hell Gate. Togo set up a series of "cock-a-doodle-dos" that he paid no attention to him and plucked, he started flying toward Astoria. The captain and crew set up a roar to catch him, for Togo is usually a fierce warrior. He ran in a yard, and was captured. The Donohue soon got off the rocks, but couldn't wait for Togo. It will return for him.

With promptness and celerity,
I call in even tones and mild,
Without the least asperity—

Or in some corner shooting "craps";
But every time I shout—enough—
One comes—perhaps—

O, BO-O-OY!!!

I love the gentle office boys,
The ever-courteous little fellows.
